Benjamin Constant is painting the Pope, and this picture was drawn from d as it will appear in the great work of art. It resembles the portrait as a line drawing can represent a painting. It will be one of the most beautures ever executed, and will stand as the historic likeness of Leo XIII., atest and probably his last portrait.

PORTRAIT OF HIS HOLINESS THE POPE, PAINTED BY GREAT FRENCH ARTIST

What Benjamin Constant Has to Say Regarding Pope Leo XIII., Whom He Regards as the Most Wonderful Man That Ever Lived.

while Leo XIII. is engaged in conver-sation for a few moments with Cardinal Matthieu on church affairs, I am paint-ing the portrait. I have an excellent op-portunity to observe the interesting phy-lognomy of the of the Sovereign Pontiff —small eves that twinkle brilliantly.

-small eyes that twinkle brilliantly; a sharp nose, expressing prudence and wisdom; a mouth that betokens extreme benevolence.

I am alone with the Pope. My emotion is intense. I am to faithfully depict this grand personage on the canvas.

"I forget my task in the rapture of the moment.

"The Pope seems to know everything that is going on in the world. What a wonderful memory, what vivacious spirit has this old man of ninety years!

"Your great sculptor, Falguiere, who has just died, has degraded his art toward the end by painting nudes that shocked decency," remarked His Holiness.

"This is true," I replied, 'but he shaped the St. Vincent de Paul of the Pantheon, and at no time has an artist created a figure more radiant with charity and pose and gestures more paternal and affectionate."

"I will give it to Your Holiness."
"I am much touched by your amiable intentions. And you will exhibit it

"It is too late to place it in the palais des Beaux Arts of the Exposition."
"Well, then, place it in the building of

MAY LEASE NEW FORD'S.

It was stated last night that several per sons had been to look at New Ford's Hotel with the view to leasing it on the 1st of October, on which date Messrs. Welli & Shere will retire from its management. Mr. Preston Cocke, who is the trustee in charge of the property, was seen yesterday and asked if he had any offers for the hotel, but he politely declined to discuss the matter in any shape whatever. Mr.

Paul Weill, the senior member of the firm of Weill & Shere, is in Europe, and will not return before the middle of August.

ALBEMARLE CLUB-

Stag Excursion Given Down the

A stag-excursion was given down the river on the Pocahontas last night by the members of the Albemario Club, There members of the Albemarie Club, There were on board when the boat left the wharf at 8:30 o'clock about seventy-five persons, including members of the club and their friends. The boat was turned over to the party, and they were given the freedom of all departments. Lunch was served on board about 10 o'clock, and the delightful river breeze proved a refreshing relief from the sweltering heat of the day in the city. It is the intention of the club to repeat the excursion several times during the next two months, thus affording a delightful diversion for those who remain in the city and an opportunity for the members to become acquainted with each other, thereby making their club life more sociable. Returning, the boat reached the city about 11:30 o'clock.

In Temporary Quarters.

The National Bank of Virginia was moved to No. 911 East Main Street yesterday af-to No. 311 East Main Street yesterday af-ternoon, after business hours. It will be open for business in its temporary quarters after 3 o'clock to-morrow morning. The bank was moved out in order to give the carpenters and masons a change

The bank was moved out in order to give the carpenters and masons a chance to come in and make many improvements in the bank building.

Mr. J. W. Thomas has the contract for the work. He promises that the bank shall be back home by September 15th. The room which the bank now occupies was formerly used as Salomonsky's tailor shon.

Iron-Moulders.

present about seventy-five members, who listened with closest attention to an address by Mr. J. P. F. Trey, Fourth Vice-President of the National Executive Board of the Iron-Moulders, on the condition of

of the Iron-Mondact, on the Condition of the organization.

The following officers were installed:
M. P. Murphy, chairman of the Executive Board; Thomas Thornton, president; Wm.
O'Brien, vice-president; Eddle Woods, sec-tary; J. J. Quinn, treasurer; M. P. Murphy, corresponding reporter; John Roger, inductor; Felix Tyler, doorkeeper; W. W. Anderson, Joe Mann and A. R. Beck, Mrs. A. W. Bennett and daughter, of West Main Street, are spending some time at Variety Springs.

A large and encouraging meeting of the Iron-Moulders' Union, No. 128, was held last night at Smithdeal Hall. There were River.

in Paris?'

What will you do with my portrait?

"On the following morning at 9 o'clock

PARIS, July, 12.—"I have had the honor of painting the greatest man in the world"—So said the great French artist, Benjamin Constant—"the most absolute by wonderful man that ever lived, for such I believe Pope Leo XIII. to be."

Benjamin Constant, fresh from a visit benjamin constant.

Benjamin Constant, from a visit to Rome, sat in his magnificent studio in Paris and described to his caller the great painting which has made him the most falked-about artist of the season; most talked-about artist of the season; and which will bring him down into pos-terity as the delinator of the features of one of the most remarkable men the world has ever known. The Pope does not like to sit for his portrait, and, therefore, when Sir Ben-jamin applied for permission to paint him, it was at first refused; however, when the artist described the magnitude of the work and its importance, His Holiness gave his permission, and the paint-ing went rapidly forward. "To those who think that the last day of the Pope is near, I only want to say that he speaks with the vigor of a young men," said the artist, "and his voice is

"I arrived at the Vatican at 11 A. M. The Pope would soon receive and bless more than 15,000 pilgrims in old St. Pe-

"The plous travelers, dust-laden, with heavy, wearied step, stream through the three large portals. Like strayed sheep, they run hither and thither through the vast sanctuary. At last there is a con-certed movement toward the altar of ; confession under the large dome. Then all fall on their knees, men, and women, and repeat their chaplets.

In the noise of the multitude which presses forward seeking to be near the passage through which the Holy Father will pass. The basilea is now all the catholic Missions in the Trocadero. You may apply to Admiral Lafont and Baron du Tell. "The will of your Holiness will be executed with promptness." will pass. The basilica is now filled with a compact crowd. All are thrilled with expectant emotion.

"All eyes are directed toward the chap-and ambassadors, accompanied by their

I through which the Pope will enter.

Several Parties Said to Have Looked at the Property With This View.

It was stated last picht that several persecret chamberlains and a few grand dames—make their way to the tribunes reserved for them. BREATHLESS SILENCE. "Finally the door of the chapel opens, and there is breathless silence. The Swiss guards are seen to range themselves in their places; the officers of the Noble Guard draw their swords, and sud-denly, in a golden penumbra, a vague form appears above their heads in the distance.

"Nearer and nearer draws the figure on a red throne borne by men in red. What a venerable old man!

"The beneficent Vicar of Christ seems capable of bestowing not only on this multitude, but on the whole world, now and forever, all the happiness he desires for mankind.

"As the Pope approaches the confessional, the pilgrims, no longer able to contain themselves, appland enthusias-tically, 'Viva ii Papa-Re!"

"Here is a king indeed, one who is nearest to God and nearest to the people -a king who will kneel and pray with them, right at their side, with all the pomp of royalty.

"The applause of the pilgrims is refrained by more than twenty thousand voices under the lofty vaults of the

"All this overpowers the senses and the emotions by its religious grandeur. "Twenty thousand heads bend to re-reive the parting benedictions of His Holiness, who, with hands lifted over the multitude and with loving smiles. returns to the privacy of the Vatican.

"The next morning I went to the Vat Ican by appointment, to paint His Holiness.

"It is in the privacy of the Vatican that the lustre of Pope Leo XIII. shines

"Having had the honor of painting the portrait of His Holiness, I will endeavor to describe him-an imprudent and dan-"Cardinal Matthley conducted and in-

Produced me to the Pope.
"It was 8 o'clock in the morning. All the church bells rang the first mass, and the streets again teemed with countless growds of pligrims.

"The blanched appearance of the Pope surprised me, despite what I had learned about his gradual emaciation. The face and hands seemed immaculately white, and hands seemed immaculately white, the blue veins being quite conspicuous. His delicate form is arrayed in white from head to foot.

"After the usual genuflections His Boliness asks us to be scated, the Cardinal on his right and I on his left.

EVERTTHING ARRANGED.

EVERTHING ARRANGED.

The conversation turns at once to my desire to have several sittings for the proposed portrait. The Holy Father asks whether the afternoon would suit me best for light. I protest respectfully, and say that I prefer the morning. But the early morning is devoted to diverse the same and receptions of pilgrims, he

"Dwaything is at last arranged to the stisfaction of His Holiness, and I spread ut my paints, fearful lest he will repent at withdraw his permission.

The my relief he enters into a conver-

MURDERS WERE

Wyatt Earp the Sole Survivor of Four Outlaw Brothers.

WERE TERRORS IN ARIZONA.

All Were Noted as Gun Fighters, and Amused Themselves With Plunder and Slaughter-Story of the Bandits.

of Wyatt Earp in his own saloon at Cape Nome by a customer he had tried to bully, has revived interest among those who knew him as the notorious Arizona gun fighter and bad man and his equally not-

It was expected that there would be serious trouble at Cape Nome after the shooting of Earp, as his followers, all bad and reckless characters, swore ven-geance. The military authorities, however, lodged Earp in jail, and as the troops are too many for them, it is hard-ly likely that the wounded desperado's friends will commit any overt act. It is likely that before Earp recovers from his wound he will receive news of the death of his youngest brother, Warren, who was shot and killed last week at W-IIcox. Arizona.

AS PRIZE FIGHT REFEREE.

Wyatt Earp gained a new notoriety at the time he gave decision against Fitzsimmons in the latter's fight with Sharkey in this city. Before he entered the ring as the referee the police made him ring as the referee the police, made him dliver up his big revolver, and after the fight he went around heeled with two guns, and dared any one to hint that he had made a crooked decision.

Wyatt Earp is the last of the four notorious Earp brothers, who dombined in the early days to make Tomostone alve up to its name. Virgil and Julian, the first to die, were killed in "gun plays" several years ago. Warren, true to his instincts, had the coroner remove his boots when he was killed a few days ago, and now Wyatt, the survivor, seems to and now Wyatt, the survivor, seems to have had a close call from what will be

When the Earp brothers lived in Tomb-stone they did much toward making it a thrilling place of residence, for the four brothers were much in evidence thereabouts in the early 80's. In 1883, however, the community decided it had had enough of the quartette, and a solid front, made up of six-shooters and Winchesters, was presented to them. So they left Tombstone and migrated to the Guntison country. Finally they were run out nison country. Finally they were run out nison country. Finally they were ran out of the Gunnison, and Wyatt Earp migrated to California, while Warren clung to his native heath in Arizona.

They had a sister, Jessie, too, who lived with them in Tombstone. She was known as the virtuous one of the family, Virgil as the closest, Wyatt as the wisest, Julian as the beauer and Warren as the most as the bravest and Warren as the most foolhardy. Virgil was killed in Tombstone and Julian in the Gunnison. THRILLING FAMILY TRAGEDY.

Ike Clauton, a famous member of the cattle thieves, the opposition faction to the stage-robbers in Tombstone, married Jessie Earp. Then he found it necessary to kill her brother, Julian, and then Warren and Wyatt found it necessary to kill Clauton and make their charming sister a widow. For Jessie had dared to marry a man with whom her brothers had a fend and she must be disciplined. All of the Earps were gun fighters for the love of it, and men of prompt courage and bitter revenge. Each of them has killed numerous men. Wyatt is credited with ten and Warren with fully as many. It used to be said in the Cochise country, round about Tombstone, that any of the Earps was fit to "pull and centre" a shot in less than one-tenth of a second. In the early '80's, when Virgil and Wyatt Earp led the stage robbers of Tombstone, Ike Clauton, Johnny Behan and Jack Ringo led the cattle rustlers. The stage robbers were Republicans; the cattle thieves Democrats. The Earps killed men for recreation and robbed stages for a livelihood, for there was no money in murder. The rustlers got their amuse-ment in much the same way, but they devoted much time to whisky and the fare bank. fare bank.

Political office, too, had its charms for both factions, for while Johnny Behan was the Democratic Sheriff of Cochise county, Virgil Earp was the Kepublican Marshal of Tombstone. And both sides treated themselves and each other to many a murder.

ADEPTS IN STAGE ROBBERY. ADEPTS IN STAGE ROBERTY.
Virgil Earp had a partnership with Barsher Williams, at that time the WellsFargo Express agent at Tombstone. Willlams would "tip off" the stages that he knew would hold the big money and then Earp would plant his highwaymen in a convenient place and plunder the stage.
Warren Earn was an express stage con-Warren Earp was an express stage com-pany guard, and when his brother gave the command "hands up" it was wonderful to see with what meekness the fierce-looking young guard threw up his hands. Then his brothers went through the express packages. There was never any shooting, for it was a family affair.

In these robberies the Earps often realized as much as $25,000, which they spent with a freedom that was considered royal in Tombstone. After each crime they or-ganized themselves into a posse comita-tus and received more money as a bonus for chasing themselves. In each case Virgil, the marshal, would enlist his three brothers and the notorious "Curly Bill" Earp, their cousin. But when Williams, the unfaithful Wells-

Fargo man, was about to die, his con-science smote him and he confessed, implicating the Earps.

It was a gala time in the Eird-cage opera-house of Tombstone, and the two warring factions occupied the boxes on opposite sides of the house. When one side cherred or clapped their big hands, the other hissed. Sheriff Behan, Ike Clauton and Jack Ringo, with several followers, vied with the Earp brothers, "Curly Bill" and "Doc" Holliday. Whiskey flowed like water, and excitement was at blood heat, when suddenly Clauto took excep-tion to the boot of one of the Earps which reposed on the rail in front of the box. Ike promptly put a bullet through the offending member, and then there was a bloody war. Twelve men were killed or wounded, but none of the Earps was even scratched. WILLIAMS BETRAYS THE EARPS Williams, the Wells-Fargo traitor, was seriously wounded in half a dozen places, and, fully expecting to die, he worked up and, fully expecting to die, he worked up a little deathbed repentance, and told how the Earps had been plundering stages and express packages for years.

This induced the Earps to fortify themselves in a small adobe hut on the outskirts of the town, where they were promptly besieged by Sheriff Behan and his followers. Warren liked gambling, and after the slege had begun to be tedious, he decided he wanted to visit the farobank. So he did, and was shot. It was thought at that time that the wound would prove fatal, and Virgil at once set out to prove fatal, and Virgil at once set out to avenge his brother's injuries. A crowd of ten opened fire on him the moment they saw him, and he was instantly killed.

THEIR PASTTIME CORDES & MOSBY.

Warm=Weather Necessities. New, Fresh, and Half-Priced.

JUST SEVEN DAYS MORE BEFORE STOCK-TAKING TIME, by which time all the balance of our summer stock must be cleaned up, the cut price of which we shall tell of below we know will do this quickly Wash Goods.

121-2c. Corded Ginghams, this season's most effective patierns, now....5c. yard 121-2c. Printed Dimities, this season's a duel with Clauton, each holding a six-shooter in the other's face and shooting it out. Julian was killed.

out, Julian was killed.

Two years of comparatively, peaceful married life followed for Jessie and Clauton, but one Jay Wyatt and Warren and "Curly Bill" met the happy husband and a shower of builets was the result. Clauton and "Curly Bill" wen tdown together, and Warren and Wyatt thought best to get out of sight. So they separated and the elder went to California, while the younger and "most foolhardy" remained in Arizona. Wyatt was "plugged full of lead," to use his own words. Before they left, however, they killed the two McLowries, Billy Clauton and Frank Stillwell, "just Billy Clauton and Frank Stillwell, 'Just to square up old debts."

Warren Earp was nearly fifty years old at the time of his death, tall, athletic, grim-visaged and a "man of honor." That is why he would not allow anyone to question his veracity. This trait existed in all the brothers, and when Wyatt Earp's Accision of foul was disputed in the Shark-decision of foul was disputed in the Shark ey-Fitzsimmons fight he made this state-

"The foul blow of that night was plain

"The foul blow of that hight was pain-ly seen by me. Fitz's smashed with his right on Sharkey's shoulder, then, with an uppercut with the left, he struck the sailor below the belt. Sharkey was leaning over, and the blow knocked him down. It was clearly foul, and before the sallor moved I mentioned that the fight was over. The first blow was weak, and I believe the second blow was intended for an uppercut, second blow was intended for an uppercut, but it struck foul. No man on earth has ever questioned my honor. I have been in many please and in peculiar situations, but no man ever said till now that I was guilty of a dishonest act. I will repeat that I acted with all fairness and with a judgment that was as true as my eyesight. I saw the foul blow."—San Francisco Spesial to Chicaga Times Head!

Fire Last Night.

An alarm for fire turned in from Box No. 317, shortly after 12 o'clock last night, was occasioned by a small blaze in an ash box in an alley between Sixth and Seventh Street, near Marshall. No

Messrs. A. W. Chase and A. Wells, of Newport News, are at the Jefferson.

Mrs. L. B. Blackburn and Mrs. H. Zane, citl to Chicago Times-Herald.

Silks at Half Price.

Embroideries.

50 and 75c. Printed Foulards, this season's most effective patterns. now....33c. 31 and $1.25 Printed Foulards, this season's most exclusive patterns only, now......

NEGRO ARRESTED

Stationery Specials.

Ladies' Waists.

new patterns and colorings, now 49c. $1.50 Black Lawn Waists, now 9Sc. $1 Black China Silk Waists, now .. $2.79 $6 Black Satin Waists, now......$3 $10 Black Taffeta Silk Waists, now...$7 $13.50 Black Taffeta Silk Walsts, 75c. Crash Skirts, now......59c. $1.50 Navy-Blue Duck Skirts......9Sc.

$6 Gray and Black Plaid Skirts. $15 Tan Cloth Suits, now.....$5.95 spend the summer with their cousin, Mrs. W. R. Smith. Leslie Gibbs, of No. 924 McDonough

Street, has gone to spend the summer with friends and relatives in Middlesex of Maury Street.

There are twelve of these springs flowing cool and clear from the earth in a radius of a few yards, and the idea is to concenof a few yards, and the idea is to concentrate these streams, which will furnish an ample supply of water for the whole city. It is stated that this change of source would be little expense to the city, as the present system could be easily used, necessitating only the laying of mains for a few blocks, in order to convey the spring water to the present pipe system. This plan is considered reasonable, as it is incremented and will certainly afford per-inexpensive and will certainly afford per-manent relief from the muddy, unsightly water now used.

Henry Baugh, charged with assault upon Carter, was fined $2.50 by the Mayor yesterday morning.

Susan Foster (colored) was arrested yesterday morning.

terday morning by Capt. Lipscomb, on the

Mr. W. J. Carter spent Friday in Nor-

Miss Maude Jennings, who has been confined to her home, on account of sickness, is out again.

Miss Agnes Ely will leave in a few days gust.

Miss Daisy Williams left yesterday for Rocky Mount, N. C., who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Pullock, have returned home.

Miss Annie Lee Woodruff, who has been in connection with the City Council as successor to Mr. Neal, has declined the office, stating that he could not serve if Preaching at Asbury M. E. Church both morning and night by the pastor, Pev. James T. Green. Regular services to-day at Central Methodist Church, conducted by the pastor.

Regular services will be held at the Clopton-Street Baptist Church to-day.
Preaching by the pastor, Rev. W. W. Sisk.

This afternoon the regular monthly meeting of the Missionary Society of Clopton-Street Baptist Church will be held. An interesting programme has held. An interesting programme has been arranged. The music will be furnished by the choir, and special pieces may be expected from Miss Rosa Turn-ley and Mr. Wm. J. Morrissett.

CAPT. LAMB IS BACK.

All Is in Readiness for His Convention.

city from the Cold Sulphur Springs, where He is in fine health and spirits and is prepared to enter upon the arduous du-he has been resting for several weeks.

Hon. John Lamb has returned to the church services.

J. Bolton, of Swansboro.

CLEAR WATER.

county.

Norfolk.

Parasols at Half Price.

$3 Parasols, now $1.50 $4 Parasols, now $2

Ribbons.

6-inch Soft All-Silk Taffeta Ribbons in the newest shades of Gray only, the 16 2-3 and 25c. Toilet Soaps Sc. cake $1.25 Pulley Belts, now....

HOT WEATHER AFFECTS TEMPER

Plenty to Do. VERY SERIOUS CHARGE.

Heated Term Gives Justice John

Young Girl Enticed by a Note to an Improper Place - An Innocent Man Involved-Robbery in

The hot week had a very trying influence on Justice John's constituents and a large percentage of them trod the granolithic to make a Roman holiday. Remarks, that at an ordinary tempera-ture would create a little good-natured chaff, exploded like bomb-shells in the heated atmosphere and caused people with overstrung nerves to give blows in-stead of caresses. And so the week showed a rushing business for the Court of Regulation.

ENJOY THEMSELVES.

Another season of sweat, misery and smells was thoroughly enjoyed in the Police Court yesterday by the throng that crowded the Big White Chamber.

charge of stealing $10.00 from John Wright (colored) while stopping at Susan's house. The case will be heard Monday. PERSONAL AND BRIEF. The artistic talent from the Casino were there in full force to get a season's stock of fresh humor from the sayings of the Great Dispenser, the Jackson Ward dele-gation came with full ranks, and the rubfolk, on business.

Mrs. Mark R. Lloyd has returned, after spending ten days at Ocean View and Port er necks were thicker than illes around beer barrel. There were a number of interesting and nere were a number of interesting and peculiar cases, the most sensational of which was a charge on warrant sworn out by the girl's mother against Mr. Milton Hargrave and Mrs. Ellen Kauffman, charging them with the serious crime of enticing Miss L. E. Albrecht to the house of Mrs. Kauffman for immoral purposes. There was no evidence against Mr. Har-grave, and he was honorably discharged. None who heard the evidence believed that he was in any way implicated.

Miss Albrecht, a pretty young girl of about fourteen years, testified that a ne-for Washington, D. C., where she will be maid of honor at the wedding of one of her friends. She will be absent about ten gro girl came to her house with an envel-ope that had her name on it, and the number of Mrs. Kauffman's house, over Little Carlisle Gregory was somewhat 1445 East Main Street, and told her Mrs. better yesterday.

Mr. Floyd Cox. of Atlanta, Ga., is vis-

Kauffman wanted to see her.

She had much curjosity to know why, and she went to the number in company Iting friends in the city.

Mrs. A. J. Daffron and Mrs. Lawrence Ingram. accompanied by their children, will leave to-day for Virginia Beach, with her older sister, and inquired in the store below about the woman above. The proprietor told her he did not think it a proper place to go, but if she wanted to they will spend the month of Ausee the woman he would accompany her He went up the stairs with her and her sister remained at the street entrance.

Powhatan, where she will spend a few weeks with her friends and relatives. Mr. and Mrs. R. Hunter Beazley, of South Boston, are the guests of Mr. H. The girl says the woman did not say anything out of the way except that she told the girl that Mr. Hargrave would be there later and wanted to see her. When she asked the woman what she wanted J. Bolton, of Swansboro. A called meeting of the stockholders of the Manchester Light, Heat and Power Company was held yesterday. Mrs. J. S. Cockrell and two children, of with her she replied that she did sewing for people and wanted to do hers. The girl then left without ceremony, and the woman asked her to come again the next day at 3:20, when Mr. Hargrave would be there. Mr. Hargrave only knew the wo-man by reason of visiting her house to col-Miss Annie Lee Woodruff, who has been visiting her cousins, Misses Adi and Blanche Bullock, has returned to her home, in Rocky Moun' N. C.
Mr. J. T. Bullock, of West Eighth Street, who has been detained at home on account of his foot, is reported somewhat hatter.

Mr. J. B. Rudd, who has been mentioned lect insurance, and had not seen her for a month. He was in Petersburg from Monday until Friday, and this statement was, of course, untrue. THE TOWEL INCIDENT.

Mrs. Kauffman, on the stand, stated that she had gotten hold of the address of the Albrecht girl through an article in the paper telling of a case where some-body was assaulted and a woman was found with a towel around her neck, and supposing they were needy, sent for the girl to give her sewing to do.

Detective Gibson called attention to Detective Gibson called attention to the fact that this circumstance occurred to Mrs. Albrecht, and not the girl.

to Mrs. Albrecht, and not the girl.

The evidence was that Ellen Kauffman makes dresses for women of bad character, and that she plays the plano for dances at houses of the same character.

The Great Dispenser declared that while there was no avidence of countries. there was no evidence of anything im-proper against Mr. Hargrave, he was not satisfied about the intentions of the wosatisfied about the intentions of the woman: that he intended to protect the young girls of the town against such characters and placed her under bond of $300 for her good behavior for six months.

Mrs. L'Ilian Heeke and Joe Heeke wers charged by W. T. Wynant with selling him whiskey on the Sabbath. It proved to be a spite case, in which Wynant had been made to move out of a house owned by the Heekes and wrote a letter declaring he would get even with them. The ing he would get even with them. The Heekes denied the charge, which was unsupported by any witness except Wynant and the case was dismissed.

Mr. James C. Smith, the City Sergent and Mr. John O'Hagan, manager of Mr. Smith's junk shop, were reported for violation of the ordinance requiring junkdealers to make daily report of their purchases to the Chief-of-Police.

The article in question was a lot of belting. Mr. O'Hagan assumed all blame in the matter, but declared that he did not know belting was included in the articles required to be reported. He was fined $10. James Goode alias John Greasy, was charged with being a suspicious character.

Two county negroes in the Second Mar-ket, swore that "Greasy" entered their cart and robbed one of them by cutting his trouser's pockets. Greasy was given six months in jail.
Robert Burrell (colored) for assaulting Eliza Brown, was fined $10.

men, dressed in U. S. army uniform, were thought to be deserters and were held in order to make inquirles.

CLEAR WATER.
For the last few years the question of securing for the city clear water, has been as much discussed in Manchester as in Richmond. Both cities are supplied allike from James river, and have to put up with the same conditions.

There are gentlemen in Manchester who have been considering carefully many pos-Charged With Using a Horse Belonging to Mr. Mays. THEY WANT CLEAR WATER.

IN MANCHESTER

There are gentlemen in Manchester who have been considering carefully many possible ways of remedying the trouble, including filtration and a change of source, and have at last reached the conclusion that a change of source will be less expensive and give the best results. It is proposed to supply the city with pure, cool and clear spring water, from what is now known as Holly Springs, at the head of Maury Street. Many Persons Leave the City for the Summer - Soon to Have Gas. Church Services-News,

Personal and Brief.

Manchester Bureau Richmond Times, 1112 Hull Street, Beattle Block.

John Preel (colored), who hud been in the employment of Mr. C. V. Mays for the the employment of Mr. C. V. Mays for the last two weeks, was arrested last night by Captain Smith on a warrant sworn out by Mays, charging the negro with using his (Mays') horse without his permission. Yesterday morning when Mr. Mays awoke he found that the negro and his horse were both missing, and they campled unaggounted for during the whole remained unaccounted for during the wholday. Mr. Mays was beginning to think his horse had been stolen, when they both turned up at a late hour last night. The negro put the horse in the stable and disappeared, but was later located and put under arrest.

Robert Owens (colored) hit Jim Ross

Robert Owens (colored) hit Jim Ross (colored) with a stick last night and was arrested.

The City Democratic Committee of Manchester will meet at 8 o'clock Monday night in the Leader Building.

Misses Delia Dunnivant, Bessie and Edna Toney, and Bertha Robinson left yesterday for a two weeks' visit in Powhatan county.

Mr. Floyd Morrisett, of Newport News, is visiting friends in the city.

Hon. Phil. V. Cogbill, of Chesterfield, was in town yesterday. Mayor Maurice's family will spend the month of August at White Hall, in Buckingham county.

Mr. Samuel Hawkes has returned to the city, after spending two weeks in Din-is visiting friends in the city.

Misses Alma and Mable Bradshaw, of No. 714 McDonough Street, will leave this morning for Selma, N. C., where they will

GREAT BARGAINS

S. Ullman's Son's. Granulated Sugar,

New Irish Potatoes...15c peck | Mountain Roll Butter ...15c lb | 6 Large Fat Mackerel.....25c | St. Julien Claret Wine, Kingan's Reliable Best Hams. 12 1-2c.

Baking Powder4c kles,..... 13c quart Lunch Tonque25c Oats, 35c bu.; Corn.....55c bu 10 cakes Octagon-Shaped

Flour.. $4.75 bbl or 30c sack Large package Gold Dust ...5c T Best Va. Claret Wine...13c qt or 50c gallon. Potted Ham and Tongue4c

1 lb can Good Luck Baking Powders8c Qt Mason's Jars......6oc

Fine Creamery 15c lb.

40c lb.

Large 1/2-lb tin boxes of

Fine Va. Apple Brandy,

Silver King Patent Family, $4.50

Our New Complete Price List Mailed on Application.

1820 and 1822 East Main Street Then the remaining Earns repaired to Gunison and took their sister Jessie with them. Ike Clauton followed and eloped with the sister. This was too much for the bereaved Earns, and they set out on the trail of the bridgy couple. They ran the pair into a tunnel, but the miners there interfered and insisted on fair play. So it inte

5 c. lb.

Brownstuff and Bran, 93c hun

imported.....25c bottle T

Try Levering' Coffee, 2 pounds for.....250

Good Green Tea, 25c lb.

Fine Soda Crackers and Ginger Snaps......5c lb

The Best 50c. Tea For

The Best Flour in the world,

Snowflake Flour, 27c bag.....$4.25 barrel Pillsbury or Gold Medal Flour, $5 barrel.....or 32c bag -Best Carolina Rice.....

ties of a hard campaign for the Democratic ticket.

Captain Lamb went over to Midlothian yesterday to attend un all-day picnic and made a speech in the afternoon.

Arrangements have about been completed for holding the convention in Sanger Hall on August 1st to nominate a Democratic candidate for Congress. The hall has been secured and all is in readiness for the meeting. The officers of the convention will not be chosen until just before the body assembles.

Several prominent Democrats have been mentioned for temporary chairman, but the committee, of course, hus taken no action in the matter yet. Mr. Clyde W. Saunders, secretary of the District Comm'ttee, has received the very handsome badges which he ordered for

A. T. Withrow and W. Jones, two young

J. C. Wheat, for creating a disturbance, cursing and abusing Fleming Hagan, paid $2.50.